

Monks' Dyke Tennyson College

Louth, Lincolnshire

Teacher of Science

Required from September 2017 or earlier if possible, a well-qualified candidate who can teach across the 11-18 age and ability range. You will be a dedicated practitioner who can deliver exciting and engaging learning experiences to young people. We are encouraging applications from colleagues who can teach Science effectively across all three disciplines in the 11-16 age and ability range.

The person appointed will enjoy teaching in high quality specialist laboratory facilities. Science is a very well led and managed department and you can expect to receive strong professional development whilst at Monks' Dyke.
